Because it's unique

Constant innovation is the order of the day at RENOLIT. As part of this process, we have developed a unique lacquer that provides optimum protection against everyday wear and tear and long-term use, making RENOLIT ALKORPLAN reinforced membranes a cut above traditional finishes. They are easy and quick to install, adapt to any shape and design and are effortless to maintain.

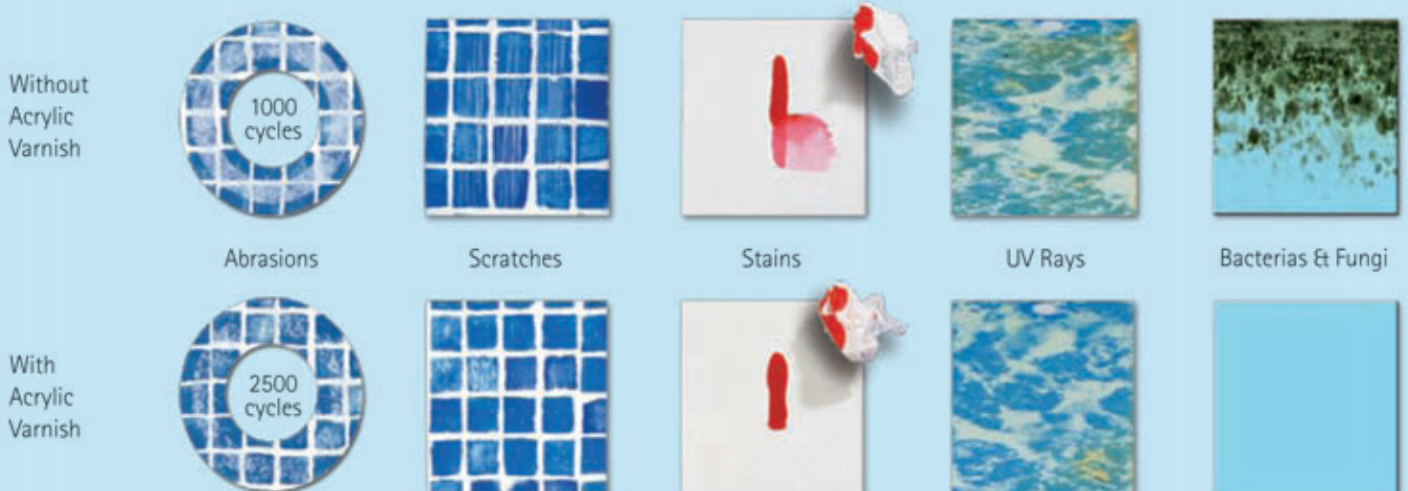

For the protection it provides

RENOLIT is a groundbreaker in the development and application of a protective lacquer, which can be found in RENOLIT ALKORPLAN 2000 and RENOLIT ALKORPLAN 3000 reinforced membranes. It safeguards and protects your swimming pool - just like your own skin.

Thanks to its innovative acrylic protection lacquer, the reinforced membranes of the RENOLIT ALKORPLAN 2000 and RENOLIT ALKORPLAN 3000 product ranges are the most lasting option for your pool. They not only provide the best protection against UV rays, stains, scratches and biodegradation, but endure against everyday wear and tear and long-term use.

Examples of test results showing the advantages of the acrylic lacquer:

Because it's an international benchmark

The RENOLIT Group is one of the world's principal manufacturers of high quality plastic membranes and related products for technical applications.

For over 60 years, our company has been an international benchmark.

Independent and family-owned, the RENOLIT Group continues to set high standards in quality and innovation.

All over the world, RENOLIT is synonymous with technical know-how, modern design and customer service.

Today, the group employs a workforce of approximately 4,000 people in more than 30 production sites and sales companies.

The RENOLIT brand enjoys a worldwide reputation for technical expertise, modern product design and customer-orientated service.

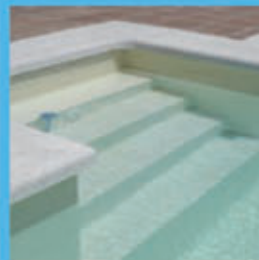

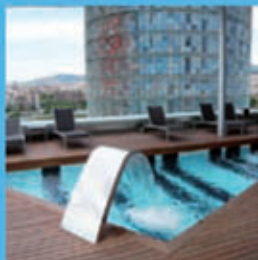

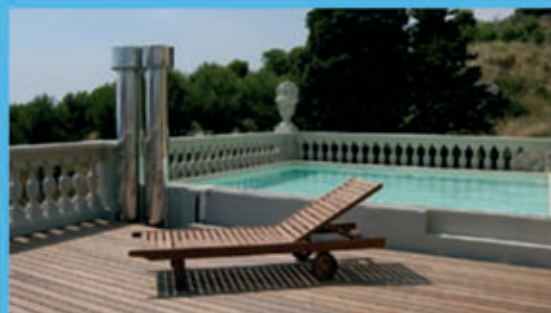

The company has been particularly focused on waterproofing public and private construction and swimming pools. RENOLIT has become globally renowned in this market thanks to the high quality and ingenuity of our protective waterproofing membrane systems.

Thanks to the exclusive properties of RENOLIT ALKORPLAN's reinforced membranes, thousands of swimming pool owners - both public and private - have put their trust in our products. They have been installed in everything from simple backyard pools to the most emblematic Olympic installations.

Because it guarantees watertight protection

RENOLIT ALKORPLAN reinforced membranes guarantee to waterproof the shell of your pool for ten years, as well as protecting it from aesthetic deterioration, atmospheric agents and wear and tear.

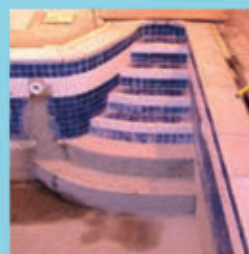

RENOLIT ALKORPLAN's reinforced membranes can be used with all types of supports, be it reinforced concrete, steel panels, formwork, wood, ceramic or polythene. Easy to install, simple to maintain and adaptable to any design, RENOLIT ALKORPLAN's protective membranes are the intelligent alternative to traditional finishes. What's more, RENOLIT ALKORPLAN's systems go beyond the quality specifications set out by the French regulation NF 5 54-803-2 and the EU equivalent: EN 15836-2.

Because it renovates your pool

Installing RENOLIT ALKORPLAN reinforced membranes guarantees a protective liner for your pool, regardless of its form, shape or size.

RENOLIT ALKORPLAN is widely used in the construction and renovation of all types of pools, both public and private, as it can be installed over all manner of existing surfaces, including tile, mosaic, cement and polyester. It's the only system that guarantees a watertight seal, providing it has been installed by a RENOLIT approved installer. RENOLIT ALKORPLAN reinforced membranes not only offer optimum performance, but their wide range of colours, patterns and finishes are the most striking ways to decorate your pool.

Because it dresses-up your pool

RENOLIT ALKORPLAN has the widest range on the market, offering a diverse array of eye pleasing, trend-setting solutions for waterproofing your pool. Colours, textures and innovative designs have been conceived to give your pool a highly contemporary look.
